PEEK-A-BOO BOXES

Even from birth, babies are eager to play! Babies will enjoy the surprise discovery of colorful scarves hiding in the box. Over time, playing peek-a-boo helps babies make the connection between their actions and what is happening around them.

MATERIALS
- An empty tissue box or any box with a small opening.
- Washcloths, socks, mittens, soft toys or small scarves.

HOW TO PLAY
Stuff colorful scarves, socks, or washcloths into an empty tissue box. Let your child reach in and pull out an item. Once all the items are pulled out, have fun stuffing each item back in. Safety tip: Always supervise babies with these objects.

LET’S TALK ABOUT IT!
- Before your child reaches in the box, ask, “What do you think is in the box?” This is great to ask even if your child is not yet verbal.
- Talk about the colors of the scarves your child pulls out. Are they also wearing that color? Can you find it in the room?

nypl.org/earlyliteracy