Biographical Note

Otto Harbach, author, librettist and lyricist, was born in Salt Lake City on August 18, 1873. His parents, Adolph Julius Hauerbach and Hansena Olsen, were Danes who had converted to Mormonism and migrated to the United States in 1863 (Harbach changed the spelling of his name in 1917). Encouraged by his family, Harbach headed east to Knox College in Galesburg, Illinois. There he distinguished himself, becoming first the oratorical champion of the college, and then winning the state championship in 1895 in a contest for which William Jennings Bryan was one of the judges. After graduation Harbach accepted a professorship in English at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington. In 1901 he arrived in New York to work on a Ph.D. at Columbia, but a lack of funds soon led him to work as a journalist and later as an advertising copywriter.

During his years in New York, Harbach began to think of Broadway as a career and while office work occupied his days, his free time was spent working with Karl Hoschna, his first collaborator, trying to create and sell a musical. It wasn't until 1908, after the success of Three Twins for which Hoschna was the composer, that Harbach quit his job and devoted himself to writing. Over the course of his career Harbach had more than 50 works produced on Broadway. He was also well-known as a "script doctor", rewriting and revising plays for various producers. Harbach's own works were for the most part musicals for which he provided both the book and the lyrics. His contributions were not only memorable lyrics and credible plots, but also a new style of musical, where the songs were an integral part of the story. Among his collaborators were the composers Karl Hoschna, Rudolf Friml, Jerome Kern, Louis Hirsch, Herbert Stothart, Vincent Youmans and Sigmund Romberg, and the lyricists Oscar Hammerstein, Irving Caesar, Frank Mandel, and John Murray Anderson. Harbach's most well-known works include the songs Love Nest, Smoke Gets In Your Eyes, Indian Love Call, One Alone, Rose Marie, The Night Was Made for Love, and the plays The Firefly, Roberta, Rose Marie, No, No, Nanette, Desert Song, Kid Boots, The Song of the Flame and The Cat and the Fiddle. Harbach also wrote several plays that were not musicals including Up in Mabel's Room and The Silent Witness.

Harbach worked with major Broadway figures of his day on a creative basis, and he also worked with them to enhance the profession as a whole through the American Society of Composer's Authors and Publishers (ASCAP). Joining as a charter member in 1914, he worked with ASCAP for more than 40 years as a director, and served as president from 1950-1953. By all accounts his colleagues not only admired his work, but respected the man. Socially Harbach belonged to the Lambs, the Friars and the Dutch Treat Club, but much of his time was spent with his family at their home in Mamaroneck, where Harbach also did much of his work.

Harbach was married to Ella Smith Dougall in Salt Lake City in 1918. Together they had two sons, Robert and William. The family also included Ella's children from her previous marriage, Bernard and Virginia Dougall. Otto Harbach died in New York in 1963.

Scope and Content Note

The Otto Harbach papers include correspondence, business papers, scripts, scores, lyrics, personal papers, photographs and printed matter documenting the life and work of this American librettist and lyricist. The collection also reflects the history of the American musical theater during the years that Harbach was most active, from 1908 through the 1930's.

Correspondence is mainly between Harbach and his relatives in Salt Lake City, and later with his son William. Letters from friends and colleagues are few in number, but contain some interesting letters from Arthur Hammerstein, Oscar Hammerstein, Jerome Kern and Carl Sandburg. The collection is particularly strong in covering the business aspects of Harbach's work with contracts, copyright, and royalty information for many of his works. Scripts form the largest series and include copies of most of Harbach's works. The scores are mainly for Hayfoot-Strawfoot (music by Jerome Kern) and Counter Melody (music by Peter De Rose) and are notable for the holographs that make up part of the scores for Hayfoot-Strawfoot. There is also a good collection of photographs, including family, colleagues, ASCAP events, and friends and a selection of production photos. Personal papers include genealogical information, writings other than scripts, ephemera and a long oral history interview conducted by William Harbach shortly before his father's death.
Unfortunately, there is no real documentation of Harbach's long involvement with ASCAP.

Series Descriptions and Container Listing

Series I: Correspondence

Correspondence includes family correspondence and general correspondence. Although this series contains the bulk of the correspondence in the collection, individual letters can be found in other series (notably business papers) and are noted in the appropriate series descriptions.

Sub-series 1 - Family, 1904-1988

Alphabetical
Family correspondence (1904-1988) is made up for the most part, of letters to Otto and Ella Harbach from Otto's family in Salt Lake City. Correspondents include Otto's brothers, Arthur, James, Julius and William Hauerbach, and his sister and brother-in-law, Sadie and Avern Poulton. There are also letters from nieces and nephews and one letter (in Danish) from Otto's father. The letters contain family news and information regarding Harbach's property in Salt Lake, and in some cases reflect the hardships of the Depression. A small file of the Harbach's replies is also included. Three files (1937-1947) contain letters written by Otto and Ella Harbach to their son William while he was away at school and later in the Coast Guard and in California. Although most of the letters deal with personal matters, there is sometimes information about Harbach's professional life. Two files (1963-1988) are made up of letters to William Harbach, including one folder of correspondence relating in some way to his father, and one folder of condolences on the death of his mother.

Sub-series 2 - General, 1895-1963

General correspondence is for the most part incoming, with only a few copies of letters from Harbach. It is made up of a small group of letters from friends and colleagues including Rudolf Friml, Arthur Hammerstein, Dorothy and Oscar Hammerstein, Eva and Jerome Kern, and Carl Sandburg. Letters from Arthur Hammerstein relate to business matters and discussion of works in progress. Five letters from Oscar Hammerstein are of particular interest; one discusses the details of a plot (Song of the Flame, produced in 1925) and another describes the differences between work in the theater and in the film industry. The latter was written from California "between takes". In a letter from England, Hammerstein reports on the preparations for the London opening of Rose Marie. The one letter from Dorothy Hammerstein is a response to Harbach's letter of condolence at the time of Oscar Hammerstein's death. The letters from Kern include a request for Harbach to write the lyrics for a UCLA school song and two letters regarding Gentlemen Unafraid (also known as Hayfoot-Strawfoot). Several letters from Eva Kern are about family matters and Jerome Kern's estate. In addition to several notes from Carl Sandburg, his file includes a typescript poem: Homage to Otto Harbach on His 80th Birthday, with an inscription in Sandburg's hand.

General correspondence also includes two notes from William Jennings Bryan (one a letter of recommendation), two notes from Jean Sibelius and individual letters from Harry Truman, Fay Templeton, Noel Coward and Ring Lardner.

stage and screen. 1 letter from Dorothy responding to Otto Harbach's condolences at the time of Oscar's death.

Correspondence / Jerome Kern, 1932-1952
1 folder
Letters from Jerome and Eva Kern, including 4 letters from Jerome Kern, 1 letter from Ring Lardner to Kern re: The Cat and the Fiddle, 1 letter (copy) from Otto Harbach and letters from Eva Kern regarding Jerome Kern's estate. Topics include Gentleman Unafraid (aka Hayfoot-Strawfoot) and plans for a UCLA college song.

Correspondence / Carl Sandburg, 1945-1961
1 folder
4 letters and 1 typescript poem with inscription in Sandburg's hand.

Series II: Business Papers

Business papers include contracts, copyright records and royalty statements.

Sub-series 1 - Contracts, 1905-1985.

Alphabetical and chronological
Contracts include agreements regarding plays (arranged alphabetically), other specific business deals and miscellaneous contracts, and contracts with music publishers (arranged chronologically). The play contract files, which sometimes contain correspondence and related business papers, include information regarding production of the plays, publication, distribution of royalties and sale of film rights; some also involve Harbach's being engaged to revise and re-write works by other authors. Managers represented include Max Gordon, Arthur Hammerstein, A.H. Woods and Charles Dillingham, with some of the contracts noting the names of the actors to be used in a particular play. In addition to the play files, there are two files of information relating to the purchase of plays from the Dillingham and Ziegfeld estates. This venture involved Harbach, Oscar Hammerstein, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern and Metro Goldwyn Mayer. The four individuals shared 50% of the purchase, with Metro Goldwyn Mayer purchasing the remaining 50%. Also included is a contract for Harbach and Jerome Kern to produce musicals for First National Pictures. Music publisher's contracts (1906-1964) include contracts made with Witmark, Harms, Schirmer and other publishers covering rights and royalties for Harbach songs.

Series III: Scripts, 1904-1984
6.1 linear feet (14 boxes)
Alphabetical
The scripts files which are mainly typescripts and photocopies of scripts also include two holograph scripts, The Firefly and Kid Boots. Two works which have a considerable amount of material in the collection are Choose Your Partners and Roberta.

Choose Your Partners (approximately 2 boxes) is a play based on a story by Edward Boykin with music by Peter De Rose. The same story had served as a basis for Hayfoot-Strawfoot which Harbach had written with Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein. That play never opened in New York, and Kern and Hammerstein both removed themselves from the production, leaving Harbach free to use the story and his lyrics for the new work with Peter De Rose. Choose Your Partners was revised many times, but never produced. It was also known as April Was Singing, Born In April, Bugles In April, Counter Melody, Hands Off and Meet Miss April. For filing purposes all the scripts have been filed under Choose Your Partners, although the title pages do vary. [Scores for Choose Your Partner are filed under Counter Melody.]

The files for Roberta (1 box) include several versions of the script, a prompt book and a copy of the story Gowns by Roberta, by Alice Duer Miller, upon which the play was based.

Among other titles represented in the scripts files are The Cat and the Fiddle, Golden Dawn, The Lady in the Window (also may have been known as The Lavender Lady), Sunny, Susi, Desert Song, June Love, No More Blondes, The O'Brien Girl, Up in Mabel's Room, Wildflower, and You're in Love.

Series VI: Personal Papers

Personal papers include biographical information, ephemera, writings, genealogical papers, a scrapbook, material related to the memorial services for Harbach and a few legal and medical papers.

Sub-series 1 - Biography, 1962-1992

Biographical files include material relating to a biography of Harbach and transcripts of two oral histories. Although a biography of Harbach has not yet been written, William Harbach has worked with several people on this project. The files include his correspondence regarding this matter, several brief drafts for biographies by Hy Kraft and Arnold Sundgaard and notes by Bernard Dougall (Ella Harbach's son from her first marriage). There is a transcript (48 pages) of an oral history of Harbach done by the Columbia University Oral History Research Office. A far more extensive interview was conducted by William Harbach in 1962. In 24 hours of tape he elicited family history, theater history, personal recollections, and memories of a long and fulfilling life's work from his father, who died just two months after the interviews were completed.

NOTE: The original tapes have been transferred to the Rodgers and Hammerstein Archives of Recorded Sound.

Sub-series 2 - Ephemera, 1893-1984

Ephemera includes personal items, files relating to tributes to Harbach, and correspondence received after his appearance on the Steve Allen Show.

Among the personal ephemera are a passport, marriage certificate and a get-well telegram signed by his fellow members of the Lambs, the memorial services for Harbach, and materials on legal and medical matters. Among the condolences received is an ASCAP memorial book in tribute to Harbach, which is an illuminated calligraphic manuscript signed by the Board of Directors including Richard Rodgers, Deems Taylor, Arthur Schwartz, Irving Caesar and 20 others.

Tributes include a reception and dinner given by ASCAP in honor of Harbach's 80th birthday in 1953, and a 1957 tribute in Salt Lake City. Material related to the ASCAP event includes photographs, telegrams, a program and a seating chart. Photographs of guests include the Harbach family, Stanley Adams, Gene Buck, Rudolf Friml, Oscar Hammerstein, W.C. Handy, Richard Rodgers and Ed Sullivan. The files of telegrams also include copies of Harbach's replies. The Salt Lake City Tribute to "welcome home" Harbach was a three-day event featuring a parade and a concert program of Harbach works. The files include photographs, telegrams, ephemera and clippings related to the celebration.

In 1955 Harbach made an appearance on Steve Allen's Tonight Show, prompting a very strong response from the audience. The letters sent to Allen, expressing delight and admiration were mounted in a scrapbook and presented to Harbach with a note from Steve Allen. The files include Allen's note and the letters from the audience, which have been removed from the scrapbook for preservation purposes.
