

Business Leadership Council Roster

The Business Leadership Council convenes the foremost executives and industry leaders for private, off-the-record programs about the issues shaping our world. A quarterly breakfast series, Council conversations cover a range of subjects—from public-private partnerships to social responsibility to entrepreneurship—that our members find most urgent. The New York Public Library is New York's primary free resource for information about finance, management, and all aspects of business. By joining the Business Leadership Council, members support the Library's investment in the next generation of leaders, executives, and entrepreneurs.

Co-Chairs Jane Lauder and Andrew Ross Sorkin
